

Media release

Office: 102 North Road, Yakamia
Postal: PO Box 484, ALBANY WA 6331
Phone: (08) 9841 9333
Fax: (08) 9841 4099
Record No: REL042/MR15111744

Date Issued: 1 October, 2015

Authorised by: DENNIS WELLINGTON, MAYOR

Albany Public Library's Etsy workshop for women

With the support of funding received from the Department of Local Government and Communities , Albany Public Library has successfully introduced an Etsy workshop for women.

Etsy is the world's most vibrant online marketplace for handmade and vintage items, recently showcased on the ABC's Bespoke series, episode 2 - Makers and Markets.

The workshop has generated a lot of interest and enthusiasm in the community with the first workshop being fully booked within a short space of time. There is currently a long waiting list for further courses.

The Etsy facilitators commissioned to run the course have been given permission by Etsy to run, for the first time in Australia, elements from the Etsy Craft Entrepreneurship' program.

"Etsy Craft Entrepreneurship is an educational program that equips creative people in underserved communities with the knowledge and skills to start Etsy businesses and earn supplemental income through their craft." - Source : - <https://www.etsy.com/craftentrepreneurship>

END

Contact : Paul Nielsen - 9841 9390 or Soraya Majidi – 9841 9373