The most densely populated area of the Mc Kail suburb has been included into the Vancouver Ward, because it naturally flows on from the suburb of Lockyer. The less populated areas of the Mc Kail have been included in the West Ward, as they best fit with the rural/semi rural land use, most reflected by West Ward. • A portion of the suburb of Centennial Park is now in Yakamia Ward: A portion of the suburb of Centennial Park, which encompasses the low populated sporting precinct, is now included in the Yakamia Ward. The remaining portion, which is made up of a mix of commercial, residential land use remains in the Frederickstown Ward. • A portion of Frederickstown Ward is now in Breaksea Ward: This portion encompasses the suburb of Mira Mar, which is primarily residential has been moved the Breaksea Ward. Historically, the Frederickstown Ward population has been relatively static compared to other wards. Suburb redistribution includes a population growth characteristic to the Frederickstown Ward. • A port of the suburb of Bayonet Head is now in Kalgan Ward: This redistribution takes into account the rapid growth being experienced in suburb of Oyster Harbour and ensures an acceptable Councillor to Elector Ratio in the medium to long term. • The suburbs of Redmond and Drome are now in the Kalgan Ward: These suburbs were distributed to accommodate a more balanced councillor to elector ratio and facilitate the retention of the suburbs of Robinson and Mount Elphinstone in the Vancouver Ward. Noting that the suburb of Mc Kail is identified as having high population growth and the suburb of Gledhow is identified as a future urban zone will have a effect in the next eight years on the West Ward. 	17/03/2015

The Council will consider the options and members of the community may suggest others.

Introduction

1. The Local Government Advisory Board has the responsibility for ensuring that recommendations from local governments for changes to wards and representation conform to the requirements of Schedule 2.2 of the Local Government Act 1995 (the Act).
2. Local governments that have a ward system are required to review their ward boundaries and representation every so often to ensure that no more than eight years elapse between successive reviews.
3. At its 9 June 2014 meeting, the Local Government Advisory Board (the Board) resolved to request that the City of Albany complete an eight year review of its wards and representation in accordance with clause 6(1) of Schedule 2.2 of the Act.

Background

4. The City of Albany has resolved to undertake a review of its ward system to comply with the requirements of the Act.
5. The last review of wards in the City of Albany was undertaken in 2006 and it is now appropriate to carry out another review.
6. It should be noted that a voluntary review was initiated by Council in 2009; however it was not completed. A history of that review is detailed at annexure E.

Current Situation

7. The latest available data from the Western Australian Electoral Commission (WAEC) was used to evaluate the current ward system Elected Member Ratios.
8. Currently the City of Albany has twelve (12) councillors elected from six (6) wards and a popularly elected Mayor.
9. The City's councillor to elector ratios at the time of the October 2013 elections were as follows:

Ward	Number of Councillors	Number of Electors	Councillor to Elector Ratio	% Ratio Deviation
Breaksea	2	3,886	1,943	+4.74%
Fredrickstown	2	3,664	1,832	+10.19%
Kalgan	2	4,086	2,043	-0.16%
Vancouver	2	3,649	1,825	+10.55%
West	2	4,777	2,389	-17.10%
Yakamia	2	4,415	2,208	-8.22%
TOTAL	12	24,477	2,040

Table 1: City of Albany elector to councillor ratios – as at October 2013

A negative % deviation indicates that the ward is under represented and a positive % deviation indicates that the ward is over represented.

10. Data obtained from the WAEC in October 2014 was as follows:

Ward	Number of Councillors	Number of Electors	Councillor to Elector Ratio	% Ratio Deviation
Breaksea	2	3823	1,912	+5.70%
Fredrickstown	2	3572	1,786	+11.89%
Kalgan	2	4029	2,015	+0.62%
Vancouver	2	3620	1,810	+10.70%
West	2	4798	2,399	-18.35%
Yakamia	2	4482	2,241	-10.56%
TOTAL	12	24,324	2,027

Table 2: City of Albany elector to councillor ratios – as at October 2014

Note: Owners and Occupiers Roll Eligibility claims expire (usually 6 months after the holding of the second ordinary election after the claim was accepted).

11. The % ratio deviation gives a clear indication of the % difference between the average councillor/elector ratio for the whole local government and the councillor/elector ratio for each ward.
12. It can be seen that there is an imbalance in representation across the City with the Frederickstown and Vancouver Wards being over represented and the West Ward being significantly under represented. A balanced representation would be reflected in the % ratio deviation being within plus or minus 10%.
13. A review must comply with the requirements of clause 7 of Schedule 2.2 of the Act. After the review is completed, the City is required to forward a report to the Board and may propose that an order be made under sections 2.2(1), 2.3(3) or 2.18(3) of the Act.
14. Should the City propose any changes to be implemented in time for the 2015 ordinary local government elections, the required documentation will need to be submitted to the Board by 31 March 2015. This will allow adequate time to complete the various statutory requirements.

Review Process

15. The review process involves a number of steps:
 - a. The local government must give public notice advertising that a review is to be carried out and that submissions may be made to the local government;
 - b. The submission period is to be not less than six weeks;
 - c. The local government is to invite submissions from the public; and
 - d. Consultation may also include public meetings, forums, questionnaires, interviews with key stakeholders etc.
16. A local government's final report to the Board should include:
 - a. Copy of minutes from the council meeting containing the resolution to change or review ward boundaries or representation;
 - b. Reasons for determining the change is minor or does not require public submissions (if relevant);
 - c. Advertisement of the review (if applicable);
 - d. Assessment of the proposal against the prescribed matters; and
 - e. The Council's decision.

17. The review process will involve the following steps:

Steps	Activity
Step 1	Council resolved to initiate the ward and representation review process
Step 2	Council workshop considered draft Discussion Paper (Version 2). Based on feedback amendments made.
Step 3	Council endorse final discussion paper (options for consideration by the public) and submission period opens.
Step 4	Public submission period opens <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Advertising commences • Information provided to the community for discussion Public Submission period closes (min: 27/12/2014, max: 06/03/2015)
Step 5	Corporate Services and Finance Committee consider submissions and make a recommendation to Council.
Step 6	Special Council Meeting - Council endorses preferred option. A second meeting will be scheduled if more work is required.
Step 7	Council submits report to the Local Government Advisory Board (LGAB) for consideration. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • LGAB submits a recommendation to the Minister for Local Government and Community (the Minister) • If accepted by the Minister, the Minister will make a recommendation to the Governor for the making of the appropriate order

18. When the Board has requested that a local government undertake a review or when a local government has chosen to conduct a review, the Board will assess if the review has met the following requirements of the Act:

- a. The review was advertised;
- b. The community had at least six weeks to make submissions;
- c. Submissions were considered by the council; and
- d. The review appropriately considered the prescribed matters in accordance with clause 8 of Schedule 2.2 of the Act.

19. Where the Board does not believe that a review has correctly taken into account the prescribed matters to be considered, it may request the local government to make a proposal that correctly takes those matters into account.

20. Where a local government fails to submit a new proposal, the Board may recommend the making of an order to correctly take into account the prescribed matters.

21. When the Board recommends the making of an order to the Minister, the Minister may accept or reject its recommendation. Should the Minister reject the Board's recommendation the proposal may be referred back to the Board for reconsideration.

22. Any changes approved by the Minister will be in place prior to the Local Government Ordinary Elections taking place in October 2015.

Local Government Act 1995, clause 8. Matters to be considered in respect of wards

Before a local government proposes that an order be made —

(a) to do any of the matters in section 2.2(1), other than discontinuing a ward system; or

(b) to specify or change the number of offices of councillor for a ward, or proposes under clause 4(2) that a submission be rejected, its council is to have regard, where applicable, to —

- community of interests;
- physical and topographic features;
- demographic trends;
- economic factors; and
- the ratio of councillors to electors in the various wards.

Factors to be considered

23. The Board offers the following interpretation of the factors to be considered:

- a. Community of interest. The term community of interest has a number of elements. These include a sense of community identity and belonging, similarities in the characteristics of the residents of a community and similarities in the economic activities. It can also include dependence on the shared facilities in an area as reflected in catchment areas of local schools and sporting teams, or the circulation areas of local newspapers.
- b. Neighbourhoods, suburbs and towns are important units in the physical, historical and social infrastructure and often generate a feeling of community and belonging.
- c. Physical and topographic features. These may be natural or man-made features that will vary from area to area. Water features such as rivers and catchment boundaries may be relevant considerations.
- d. Coastal plain and foothills regions, parks and reserves may be relevant as may other man made features such as railway lines and freeways.
- e. Demographic trends. Several measurements of the characteristics of human populations, such as population size, and its distribution by age, sex, occupation and location provide important demographic information. Current and projected population characteristics will be relevant as well as similarities and differences between areas within the local government.
- f. Economic factors. Economic factors can be broadly interpreted to include any factor that reflects the character of economic activities and resources in the area. This may include the industries that occur in a local government area (or the release of land for these) and the distribution of community assets and infrastructure such as road networks.
- g. Ratio of Councillors to Electors in the various wards. It is expected that each local government will have similar ratios of electors to councillors across the wards of its district.

Options to Consider

24. The Council will consider the following options and members of the community may suggest others:
- Option 1 No Wards
 - Option 2 Two Wards. (two wards based on demographic suburb groupings).
 - Option 3 Three Wards. (1 x central & 2 x rural wards)
 - Option 4 Four Wards. (displayed as concentric circles radiating out from the City centre)
 - Option 5 Five Wards (based on suburb groupings)
 - Option 6 Six Wards. (retain status quo with suburb reallocation and boundary adjustments).
25. The attached maps indicate the options (annexure C).
26. Also under consideration will be:
- a. The number of councillors for each ward and the district.
 - b. The method of electing the Mayor. For example, popularly elected Mayor versus a Mayor elected by the Council.
 - c. The names of the wards will also be considered. For example, rather than the current names, it may be preferable to use the names of localities, or the names of pioneering families in the district.

Frequently Asked Questions

Is the ratio of councillor to electors in various wards a significant factor?

- The Local Government Advisory Board (the Board) considers that this factor is significant.
- The Board and the City of Albany will expect that the wards will have similar ratios.
- The Board has a policy of less than plus or minus 10% variation in elector ratios.
- If Council can demonstrate a need to apply ratios outside the plus or minus 10% to address exceptional circumstances, the board will take this into consideration.

Why is this happening and does this happen to other councils?

- This process does happen to other councils. The Local Government Act 1995, requires local governments with wards to carry out reviews of the ward boundaries and the number of councillors for each ward, from time to time, so that not more than eight years elapse between successive reviews.
- The last review of wards was conducted in 2006, which resulted in a reduction of councillors from 14 to 12 and wards from 7 to 6.
- This particular review was undertaken in response to the Board's request to do a review.
- It is a legislative requirement for the City to conduct this review.

After this meeting can a public submission be made?

- Yes, public submissions will be accepted until 6 March 2015 or alternatively complete the public submission form included at annexure B of the discussion paper.

Can we keep the current wards and boundaries? Why do we need to change?

- Council may consider it appropriate to maintain the status quo based on the recommendations from the community.

What happens next?

- Council will make a decision after considering any public submissions and the assessment of options against the factors included under clause 8 of Schedule 2.2 of the Local Government Act 1995. These factors are detailed in the discussion paper.

How will this affect the rates?

- Ward & Boundary distribution will not affect Rate calculations or amounts.

Frequently Asked Questions

How will this affect my representation?

- The Local Government Advisory Board will not normally consider changes to ward boundaries and representation that result in ward councillor/elector ratios being greater than plus or minus 10% of the average councillor/elector ratio. As previously stated the Board will consider exceptional circumstances when applying the 10% policy.

Will the reduction of representation will be of concern and affect Council decision making?

- The ideal number of elected members is a matter for the local government to determine.
- There is a diverse range of councillor/elector ratios across Western Australia reflecting the sparsely populated remote areas and the highly populated urban areas.
- One train of thought is that fewer councillors can still provide adequate representation and this may result in financial savings and more effective and efficient decision making.
- Another train of thought is that more councillors increase the perspective of the decision making process.

How hard will this be to administer in the future?

- Changes to the number of wards and councillors will have a small administrative impact.
- Ward maps will be updated and databases amended accordingly.

Who will determine new Ward names?

- Ward names will be considered once a proposed ward system has been recommended for adoption.
- Council may determine if it is preferable to use name of localities, names of pioneering families, name of prominent geographical features, or names with local indigenous significance. Suggestions can be submitted as part of your submission to this review.

What is the cost of doing this?

- The cost of doing the review at this time will be reduced as it will coincide with an ordinary election of Council scheduled for October 2015. Costs involved also include the cost of Landgate to prepare Technical Descriptions (TDs), if applicable, and the cost to publish the Orders in the Government Gazette. These costs vary depending on the time the TDs take to be prepared and the length of the Order to be published, but an approximate cost is $400 each.

How do these changes affect me as a resident and ratepayer?

- Any changes will not affect the services currently being offered by the City of Albany.

The Impact of Ward and Representation Changes on Councillor Terms and Representation Policy

- The following information details the Local Government Advisory Board's policy regarding the implementation of ward and representation changes.

All wards are abolished

- It is not necessary for all offices of councillor to be declared vacant to implement a change from a ward system to no wards.
- If a local government proposes that councillors whose terms do not expire at the next ordinary elections continue to serve in the district ward, and the request is supported by the Board, at the next ordinary elections councillors complete their terms as normal and nominations are called to fill these vacancies. The remaining councillors who still have two years in office represent the electors of the whole district.

Example 1 - A local government with four wards and nine councillors decides to abolish its wards. It is not necessary to declare all offices of councillor vacant. At the next ordinary elections, five councillors complete their terms leaving four councillors who still have two years in office. Elections are held for the five vacant positions and the four remaining councillors represent the whole district.

New wards are created

- It is not necessary for all offices of councillor to be declared vacant to implement the creation of a ward system where there are no wards.
- A local government can recommend the allocation of councillors who still have two years in office to the new wards.
- If the request is supported, at the next ordinary elections councillors complete their terms as normal. Continuing councillors would be allocated to the new wards and elections are held for all vacant positions.

Example 2 - A local government with no wards and nine councillors decides to create a three ward system (Patterson Ward, Brown Ward and McDowell Ward) with three councillors in each ward.

At the next ordinary elections four councillors are due to complete their terms leaving five who still have two years in office. The local government advertises that it intends to make a submission to the Board recommending the allocation of the remaining five councillors to the three wards with one in Patterson Ward, two in the Brown Ward and two in the McDowell Ward based on where the councillors currently reside. Public submissions are invited.

After consideration of submissions the allocations are recommended to the Board. This is supported, councillors are allocated to the new wards and elections are held for two vacancies in the Patterson Ward, one vacancy in the Brown Ward and one vacancy in the McDowell Ward.

Frequently Asked Questions

All wards are abolished and new wards created

- It is not necessary for all offices of councillor to be declared vacant where all wards are abolished and a new ward system created.
- A local government can recommend the allocation of councillors who still have two years in office to the new wards.
- If the local government request is supported, at the next ordinary elections councillors complete their terms as normal. Continuing councillors would be allocated to the new wards and elections are held for all vacant positions.

Example 3 - A local government with five wards and ten councillors decides to create a new ward structure with two wards (Patterson Ward and McDowell Ward) and four councillors in each ward.

At the next ordinary elections five councillors are due to retire leaving five who still have two years in office. The local government advertises that it intends to make a submission to the Board recommending the allocation of the remaining five councillors to the new wards with three in the Patterson Ward and two in the McDowell Ward based on where the councillors currently reside. Public submissions are invited.

After consideration of submissions the allocations are recommended to the Board. This is supported, councillors are allocated to the new wards and elections are held for one vacancy in the Patterson Ward and two vacancies in the Brown Ward.

Ward boundaries are amended

- It is not necessary for offices of councillor to be declared vacant to implement amendments to ward boundaries.
- The local government can recommend the allocation of councillors who still have two years in office to the new wards if necessary.
- If the local government request is supported, at the next ordinary elections councillors complete their terms as normal. Continuing councillors may be allocated to the new wards and elections are held for all vacant positions.

Example 4 - A local government with four wards and two councillors in each ward abolishes one ward (Ritchie Ward) and amends the boundaries of the other three wards (Patterson Ward with three councillors; Brown Ward with three councillors and McDowell Ward with two councillors).

At the next ordinary elections four councillors complete their terms leaving four who still have two years in office. Three of these councillors continue to reside in the wards from which they were elected however one councillor, Cr Keen, was elected from the Ritchie Ward that no longer exists. Cr Keen can be reallocated to any of the new wards, however the local government must give consideration to clauses 1 and 2 of Schedule 4.2 of the Local Government Act 1995, where near as practical to half of the total number of councillors are to retire every two years and as near as practical to half of the councillors representing each ward are to retire every two years.

Frequently Asked Questions

Although Cr Keen now resides in the Patterson Ward most of her former constituents live in the Brown Ward. The local government advertises that it intends to make a submission to the Board recommending the allocation of Cr Keen to the Brown Ward. Public submissions are invited.

After consideration of submissions the allocation of Cr Keen to the Brown Ward is recommended to the Board. This is supported, Cr Keen is allocated to the Brown Ward and elections are held for two vacancies in the Patterson Ward, one vacancy in the Brown Ward and one vacancy in the McDowell Ward.

Number of councillors reduced

- In most instances, a reduction to the number of councillors can be implemented by reducing the number of vacancies at the next ordinary election.
- There are some exceptions to this and the Board may declare offices of councillor vacant in the following circumstances:
 - Where the number of councillors in a ward or district is reduced and the number of councillors remaining after the next ordinary election would be greater than the number of positions available.

Example 5 - A local government decides to reduce the number of councillors in a ward from three to one. At the next ordinary election only one councillor in that ward is due to complete his term leaving two councillors but only one position. One or more of the continuing councillors are therefore required to conclude their terms and an election is held for the one vacancy.

Declaring offices vacant

- Section 2.35 of the Local Government Act 1995 deals with vacancies on the restructure of districts, wards and representation. This section provides that offices of council can be declared vacant where it is necessary to effect changes in boundaries or wards. It is very rare that a change to a local government's ward structure or boundaries and or representation will require any offices of councillor to become vacant, as councillors with terms continuing beyond the next ordinary election have a right to complete their terms in office.
- A 'complete spill' of positions, could be effected if all of the continuing councillors agree to resign prior to the next ordinary election.
- If a local government is considering declaring all offices vacant it is recommended that the local government seeks advice from the Department of Local Government and Communities prior to submitting a recommendation to the Board.

The following advantages and disadvantages are open for consideration:Reduction in elected members:

- The advantages of a reduction in the number of elected members may include the following:
 - The decision making process may be more effective and efficient if the number of elected members is reduced. It is more timely to ascertain the views of a fewer number of people and decision making may be easier.
 - There is also more scope for team spirit and cooperation amongst a smaller number of people.
 - The cost of maintaining elected members is likely to be reduced ($22,000 [sitting fee], $3,500 [IT Allowance], minimum $50 [reimbursements for travel and accommodation], totalling approximately $25,550 per annum per councillor)
 - The increase in the ratio of councillors to electors is unlikely to be significant.
 - Consultation with the community can be achieved through a variety of means in addition to individuals and groups contacting their local elected member.
 - A reduction in the number of elected members may result in an increased commitment from those elected reflected in greater interest and participation in Council's affairs.
 - Fewer elected members are more readily identifiable to the community.
 - Fewer positions on Council may lead to greater interest in elections with contested elections and those elected obtaining a greater level of support from the community.
 - There is a State wide trend for reductions in the number of elected members and many local governments have found that fewer elected members works well.
- The disadvantages of a reduction in the number of elected members may include the following:
 - A smaller number of elected members may result in an increased workload and may lessen effectiveness. A demanding role may discourage others from nominating for Council.
 - There is the potential for dominance in the Council by a particular interest group.
 - A reduction in the number of elected members may limit the diversity of interests around the Council table.
 - Opportunities for community participation in Council's affairs may be reduced if there are fewer elected members for the community to contact.
 - An increase in the ratio of councillors to electors may place too many demands on elected members.

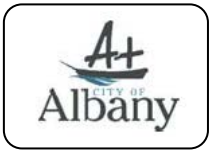

Frequently Asked Questions

No wards system

- The advantages of a no ward system may include:
 - Elected members are elected by the whole community not just a section of it.
 - Knowledge and interest in all areas of the Council's affairs would result in broadening the views beyond the immediate concerns of those in a ward.
 - The smaller town sites and rural areas have the whole Council working for them.
 - Members of the community who want to approach an elected member can speak to any elected member.
 - Social networks and communities of interest are often spread across a local government and elected members can have an overview of these.
 - Elected members use their specialty skills and knowledge for the benefit of the whole local government.
 - There is balanced representation with each elected member representing the whole community.
 - The election process is much simpler for the community to understand and for the Council to administer.
- The disadvantages of a no ward system may include:
 - Electors may feel that they are not adequately represented if they don't have an affinity with any of the elected members.
 - Elected members living in a certain area may have a greater affinity and understanding of the issues specific to that area.
 - There is potential for an interest group to dominate the Council.
 - Elected members may feel overwhelmed by having to represent all electors and may not have the time or opportunity to understand and represent all the issues.
 - It may be more difficult and costly for candidates to be elected if they need to canvass the whole local government area.

Ward System

- Many local governments have a ward system and find that it works well for them.
- The advantages of a ward system may include:
 - Different sectors of the community can be represented ensuring a good spread of representation and interests amongst elected members.
 - There is more opportunity for elected members to have a greater knowledge and interest in the issues in the ward.
 - It may be easier for a candidate to be elected if they only need to canvass one ward.
- The disadvantages of a ward system may include:
 - Elected members may become too focussed on their wards and less focussed on the affairs of other wards and the whole local government.
 - An unhealthy competition for resources can develop where electors in each ward come to expect the services and facilities provided in other wards, whether they are appropriate or not.
 - The community and elected members may regard the local government in terms of wards rather than as a whole community.
 - Ward boundaries may appear to be placed arbitrarily and may not reflect the social interaction and communities of interest of the community.
 - Balanced representation across the local government may be difficult to achieve, particularly if a local government has highly populated urban areas and sparsely populated rural areas.

OPTION 6 – SIX WARDS

Redistribute current ward suburb allocation and adjust ward boundaries, to create a balanced representation across the municipality, in order to maintain the status quo and reflect the appropriate elector to councillor ratio as required by the Board.

Community of interest: Communities are attempted to be reflected in this option, noting suburbs are split by ward boundaries.

Demographic trends: This option addresses population trends in the medium term.

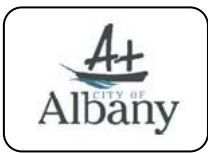

Physical and topographic features: The ward boundaries follow suburb boundaries delineated by roads.

Economic factors: Ward boundaries do not reflect economic activity. However, Frederickstown Ward represents the Central Business District (CBD) and Kalgan and West Wards represent rural communities.

Ratio of Councillors to Electors Note: A negative result indicates that the ward is under represented and a positive result indicates that the ward is over represented.

Table: City of Albany – Option 6 – councillor to elector ratios for six wards and 12 and 6 offices of councillor.

Support for ward system

By Dylan Caporn

City of Albany councillors are supporting the current ward system for the council because they say it is working well.

The support comes as a City review looks into whether the ward system is necessary for Albany and the other available options.

West councillor and former mayor Alison Goode said she preferred the six-ward system.

"By doing away with the ward system and reducing the number of councillors, it is a very real possibility that we could end up with a gaggle of CBD-oriented councillors who have never driven on a gravel road, let alone have any empathy with the huge rural areas we have," she said.

Breaksea councillor Ray Hammond said his personal opinion was that the removal of wards would remove a constituency link.

"Wards impose accountability. Eliminating wards — particularly in large municipalities — does not serve the interest of constituents," he said.

"What is far, far more important to constituents throughout the length and breadth of this city is having a go-to person, an advocate, somebody who is accountable for their needs, somebody to whom they can relate to and rely upon."

Deputy Mayor and Fredrickstown councillor Greg Stocks said he had not made up his mind but was considering those options, including the status quo.

"I think there is some merit in retaining the status quo as council is working well and all areas are represented," he said.

Cr Stocks said he was also considering option one, in which all wards would be abolished.

"I am considering this in the light that all councillors represent everyone when they make decisions," he said.

"There are some arguments that negate that point of view, most particularly around constituents being able to identify a couple of councillors to take up a given cause."

Yakamla councillor Robert Sutton said while he would be happy to work under a no-ward system, he believed the best option was a readjustment of the ward boundaries.

"Where we've seen growth in some areas, such as McKail — we should readjust the boundaries," he said.

"I certainly think there can be some problems with no wards, but it's not a perfect system as it is now."

West Ward councillor Gerry Grewson said he could not stress enough how important it was for people to have their say on the review. "Once the ward system is lost, there is no turning back," he said.

Deputy chief executive Gerry Adams said about 100 people had made public submissions to the review so far.

"Most of the submissions so far have come from rural areas," he said. "A handful of people attended public forums held during December."

The City is planning more public forums later this month and in early March to inform electors of the proposed ward changes.

Submissions close on March 6.

Reform could cut council numbers

■ Dylan Caporn

With the public submission period for the City of Albany's ward review only weeks from closing, the City will begin a final consultation in local shopping centres to gauge electors' views.

City deputy chief executive Gary Adams said the submission period would still be active for several weeks.

"The City would like to hear from as many people as possible during this time," he said.

"On Thursdays and Saturdays between February 12 and 28, City officers will establish information stands at major shopping centres throughout Albany to provide information and answer any questions."

The Albany Advertiser looked at the options presented by the City.

STATE OF PLAY

The City council is made up of 12 councillors across six wards, representing about 24,000 people, and a popularly elected mayor.

However, the review needs to take into account the councillor to elector ratio – the average number of electors – per councillor which should not deviate any more than 10 per cent.

Four City wards deviate from the 10 per cent, with Fredrickstown (11.89 per cent) and Vancouver (10.70 per cent) over-represented and the West (-18.35 per cent) and Yakamia (-10.56 per cent) wards under-represented.

NO WARDS

The first option proposes to abolish all wards and have councillors elected by all voters.

From Wellstead to Youngs Siding, each councillor would represent and be accountable to everybody in the City.

This option allows for a simpler electoral system and councillors can use their insight and experience across the whole area.

Supporters of removing wards argue councillors already field calls and issues from electors across the City.

Figures show 27 regional councils, including Albany, have retained their ward system, while 76 regional councils have not.

However, opponents are concerned if wards are removed, an important community link to a representative would be severed.

With such a large area, the single-ward city would also cause problems for campaigns.

OPTION TWO

The second ward model acknowledges the divide between the rural and urban sections of Albany.

two (each ward has about 12,000 voters), the size difference creates an imbalance for councillors.

However, councillors could divide responsibilities for certain areas between themselves.

OPTION THREE

The third option expands the urban area north to McKail, and divides the large rural block into rural east and rural west.

This option acknowledges the divide between urban and rural areas but recognises a combined rural ward would present a vast distance issue.

The model suggests 14, 10 or nine councillors to assist with a more even balance.

MAYORAL ELECTION

The City is also reviewing the election of the mayor's position inviting comments on whether the role should be elected by the people or elected from councillors.

REDUCTION OF COUNCILLORS

With each option, the City has proposed different models for a 12, 10 or eight member council.

The proposal is part of a State-wide trend of reducing the number of councillors. But fewer councillors can limit diversity and lead to the potential dominance of council by a single-interest group.

The community information stands will be at Dog Rock Shopping Centre on February 12 and 14, Albany Plaza Shopping Centre on February 19 and 21 and Brooks Garden Centre on February 28 and 29.

There will also be an additional community open forum on March 4 at the City civic rooms at 5pm.

Each proposed model offers figures on representation for reduced councillors to as low as six.

Arguments for the reduction revolve around a reduced cost of governance and easier, more streamlined decision-making.

The councillors may also see an increased profile in the community and increased voter interest in elections.

It costs a lot if the mayor dies or resigns and is not worth it. We should go the way big local governments in perth go and select from the council directly

Wards mean nothing and majority of the general public have no idea of who represents what ward. The best option is to have 8 councillors with a mayor that is elected on a first past the post system. If your changing the process then need to make sure there is no preference deals or the like which give a false representation of who the people want. Length of time needs to be discussed. eg: 2, 3 or 4 year terms. I also think that to be nominated for council you should have a qualification or meet a certain criteria otherwise it is most popular wins. This also stops people getting on council and then after a small amount of time resigning which then costs the rate payers over 15k for a bi election. And if you have a person that might be popular they may have no idea how to review important planning & strategic decisions that potentially are millions of dollars worth of investment and employment opportunities. An example is you cant be an accountant without the correct qualifications. Refine the process, get better candidates and have less of them allows for better and quicker decision making. I also think they should be paid a lot more. Use the wages saved from reducing the councillors to pay the others more. You pay for what you get.

A smaller council (eg. 6) would, from my experience, be more effective and productive. All prospective candidates should be able to demonstrate ability to understand and interpret financial statements. The election of mayor by all electors should better ensure the appointment of someone with widespread support and respect of the community.

Central ward names could be based around an ANZAC theme, while outer wards need a name reflecting the agriculture based industry carried out in the ward.

Councillors serve the people of the LGA, in this case the City of Albany, not just their ward. An elected member does not need to reside in their ward, nor are they required to vote on matters as a ward representative; they represent ALL ratepayers no matter where they live, work or play within the municipal boundaries. Maintain the number of elected members at current level until 2017 then reduce by 2 each election until 9 members reached, ie 2021.

I have never seen either of my local councillors in the 3 years that I have resided here. councillors should also reside within the area which they supposedly/profess to represent. it would be useful if local councillors sent out newsletter to their residents and state exactly what they are doing or propose doing for their area. I see nothing occurring in Little Grove. reduction of speed limit on Frenchman Bay Rd through LG would make it safe for all concerned. there are a lot of elderly residents, cyclists and children here and 70 Km is too high a speed. it is a built up area and the speed limit in such is 50Km unless indicated differently. the turnoff to Princess Royal Sailing Club is a prime example of where signage is required. I am waiting for someone to have an accident on that corner. motorists continually over steer when coming around and are on the wrong side of the road. I am aware that this a Mains Road Dept issue but the council should also be advocating for safer road use. better still, close this portion of the road and re-align it further up on the bend where the road comes from the PRS Club to Frenchman Bay rd put in a round about at this intersection.

There is no way to guarantee against special interest groups forming in council , at least option 3 gives us rural electors a better voice within these groups. Number of councillors for option 3 should be 10, 4 rural and 6 urban.

Q5: (e) Comments: The City seeks your views, for example: reason for support, suggested ward names. Please include any arguments supporting your comments – continue on additional sheets if necessary. I believe the current system the way it is works very well. We have a good ratio of wards and councillors in the City of Albany. We should maintain the status quo. I also believe the Mayor should be popular elected by the electors. Albany is a very large district. If we go for no wards it will potentially mean that only the candidates that can afford to canvas the whole of the district are likely to get into council. We have a unique Urban and Rural mix and I believe it is important that the ward system be retained as councillors can represent their wards more easily and usually with a common understanding of the areas they represent. Urban councillors may not necessarily have as much understanding of the requirements in rural areas and visa versa. Councillors have a window of opportunity to stand before all at the council meetings and bring forward items of concern and this is the perfect time for councillors to make other councillors aware of what is happening in their region. People also feel a sense of attachment to their local councillors and feel much more able to address issues with them. In particular when they are at a local progress meeting eg at Wellsted. I could not see all councillors attending progress meetings at Wellsted or Youngs Siding, but I can definitely see the two councillors for the wards attending as normally candidates nominate for the areas they live in or work in. Keep the status quo. I believe the Mayor should be a popular elected Mayor by the electors, and that is very evident in the Federal Politics at the moment, where people wish they had the opportunity to elect a Prime Minister that they prefer, and not someone within. Albany is a very focused and outspoken community and to take that representation away from them will only cause more Anxe rather than harmony like we have now.

Issues from coastal reserve management, strategic maintenance of assets such as roads, lighting and public utilities. Councillors are community representatives who maintain close contact within their ward, they are subject matter experts on local ward issues. Numbers of electors are concentrated within the urban area and rural representation may diminish if wards are removed. All councillors must obviously maintain an informed overview of the entire city and it's issues, progress and strategic direction. Ward representation provides local electors with a direct local contact for local issues. Absolutely opposed to the abolition of ward representation.

Q2: (b) Representation designated by:	Option 1 - No Wards (representation determined by all electors in all wards)
Q3: (c) Please select one of the following options, if you have chosen Ward Representation*:	Respondent skipped this question

Q5: (e) Comments: The City seeks your views, for example: reason for support, suggested ward names. Please include any arguments supporting your comments – continue on additional sheets if necessary. I would like to see a council consisting of a membership that represents the interests of the whole City of Albany. My fear is that with the ward system, councillors may only represent what they feel is in the best interest of their specific ward, and not consider the best interests of all citizens of Albany.

In addition, different rural areas have local issues, and value their local representation on the council. The ward system is the only thing that ensures this local representation. We feel very marginalised as it is, and any decision to further limit the voice of rural residents is to be avoided

There are also differences in concerns between the eastern rural region (larger scale farming) and the western rural region which need representation. Too few councillors risks a small number of people making decisions in the interest of a minority, which is why I prefer two representatives for each of six wards.

Q5: (e) Comments: The City seeks your views, for example: reason for support, suggested ward names. Please include any arguments supporting your comments – continue on additional sheets if necessary. "If it aint broke don't fix it". Fewer councillors leads to dominance and self interest. Different sectors of the community all need representation because of the economic activities & resources in the area & the community assets & infrastructure there. More councillors leads to better representation & a hand brake on self interest and monetary or other gain by individuals & councillors. More councillors leads to greater diversity & discussion of different viewpoints, which inturn leads to better decision making. Council needs to seek more community input and then take action on what the community members suggest. We need transparency & accountability & I feel it can be achieved by maintaining what we have. This document should have been posted out to every ratepayer in the community, so there could be a longer & better debate to ensure that more community members could have input into this decision making process.

Q5: (e) Comments: The City seeks your views, for example: reason for support, suggested ward names. Please include any arguments supporting your comments – continue on additional sheets if necessary. Comments on additional sheet: As a former Mayor and councillor of the Town of Albany I served under the no wards and wards. I always felt if you are interested in Albany the no wards is the best to truly represent Albany. More people nominated at each election under the no wards there was always at least 10 nominations for four vacant seats, when we went back to the wards at times there was only the one nomination for each ward, I feel that people don't want to run against a particular councillor but when open 'one is not running against a particular councillor. If you have two wards option it will go back to Town against outer ward, as I said if interested a councillor can represent the entire city. I would hate to see Albany go backward as it was under the Town and Shire, and that is what will happen if there are two wards. As to the election of the Mayor it is far fairer to have all electors in the district to have a say in who represents the City, if elected by the councillors you have just a majority of councillors voting for the Mayor, again you would be going back to what happens in Shires with the same person in the position for 20 or 30 years no matter what the general public think. I hope you will think long and hard before changing what has served Albany well since 1885. I believe in the progress of Albany but electing the Mayor by council is a backward step' Thank you for asking comments from the people of Albany Yours faithfully REDACTED, OAM.

The West Ward (as at present) is already swamped by urban content of its electors. Too much money is spent now on mowing verges in town areas while our gravel further out cry out for more gravel. Maintenance would be cut to a minimum if main local roads were bitumised . (Red hen and Stanley Roads).

The current ward structure includes Milpara and Wellstead, for example, with two totally differing needs from their representative. The simplicity of three wards (east/west rural & urban) distributes the councillor representation evenly given the population spread and simplifies the voting process. I'm not particularly in favour of an increase in representation, but I am in favour of the three ward system, which offers 14 councillors in the options.

The end result is better decision making. Also, I believe that the position of Mayor should not be a popularity vote, but should be elected by those that they represent.... ie, The Council. As such, the Mayor should be one of the 12 Councillors that are elected, who is then elected by them to represent the council.

I believe there was too much detail & then it appears as a bulky document which sadly, many people will not study & consequently not record an opinion. Perhaps Council could come back to this ideas five/six years on.

Evidently it is possible in special circumstances to have a variation of the equal number of electors in each ward. I believe Albany has a special circumstance. My suggestion is that the suburban area and the adjoining farmers subdivision areas - say from roughly Nanarup - Bakers Junction - West of Link Road be divided into five wards with two members each. West Ward and East Ward would then consist of largely the farming areas and could elect one councillor each regardless of actual population. This would allow the farming areas to be represented by someone living in the area. I am aware that the assumption can be made that East Ward has 2 members from Bornholm, but that is the result of a popular member being elected by first past the post, with over 60 % of the voters votes for other candidates - not complaining - that the system we have. Kalga has two members both suburban. - Fortunately one is from a farming background. Failing the adoption of this suggestion I would support 6 wards with twelve councillors and a separately elected mayor.

A lower number of councillors will not result in cost savings as the fewer councillors will be paid a large amount for a larger work load.

How do you achieve a casting vote in this was there would be even numbers. Does the mayor cast two votes? (if needed). The current system allows representation of country areas. The fewer councillors. There are the less representation per person there is and the work load will be too much. Councillors will not travel to country areas when they have to cover the whole city area. It would be nice for the people to elect the Mayor and the losing candidates could still be elected as councillors.

Councillors are elected by, and to represent the interests of, particular sections of the community based on their place of residence within the City of Albany. Ideally these councillors should reside within the sections of the community they represent and thereby be most accessible and most aware of the aspirations and concerns of these communities.

South Coast Progress Association: Submission RE: Review of Ward Boundaries and Representation 2014 At a recent committee meeting the above issue was discussed and voted on. Present were REDACTED REDACTED, REDACTED, REDACTED, REDACTED and REDACTED, REDACTED, REDACTED and REDACTED.

We all agreed and voted that the South Coast Progress Assoc. selected:

- (1) Ward System Representation; and
- (2) Selected Option 5 with 5 wards.

We did consider having option 6 with 6 wards, but the option removes Robinson and Mt Elphinstone from our Vancouver Ward, and does not make sense to have a complete continuous section removed after having been part of this Vancouver Ward right through the Albany Shire days and now the City of Albany Ward system.

Cuthbert is better placed in West Ward as usual. Adding Gledhow to the Vancouver Ward does not make sense and balance out the residential numbers.

- (3) Number of Councillors - maintaining the status quo of 12 Councillors.

Even though all elected Councillors represent the whole of Albany, we believe having the 2 or 3 Councillors per Ward (hopefully one councillor always living in the Ward), gives the Ward residents the belief that their elected Councillors fully understand a local issue going for a Council decision. Having 2 or 3 councillors per Ward allows for sickness, holiday absences etc.

- (4) Election of the Mayor - The Mayor should be elected by all Albany electors.

Yours faithfully, REDACTED for REDACTED, President of South Coast Progress Association.

Decisions are masked as individuals hide behind a so called corporate good. Local knowledge and intimacy of detail is subjugated or lost. The boys club mentality is enhanced. Ultimately the decisions reached are poorer and the outcomes for the City likewise. By all means address any gerrymander but not at the expense of responsible government. The alternatives presented (concentric zones or no wards) are a lazy way to address any need for reform. The latter no wards model relies on people who are hardworking and generous ethical and responsible - and history shows they do not exist even in Albany. The two wards model will pit city V rural hardly a good way forward - them and us.

See separate email to staff: To whom it may concern,

The following brief comments are in addition to my survey monkey response.

Comments

Currently councillors are elected two by two within each ward with no elector input across the whole diversity of councillors. Yet when elected, councillors act as a whole over the entire city irrespective of voters that had no say in their election.

In some instances electors who have interests in multiple wards are unable and unentitled to vote for a councillor representing that locality of interest.

I have been thinking about this for some years and my considered thoughts are that a "board" (council) should have a range of skill sets. This appears to have the best opportunity via a system of no wards.

1. Option 1 - No Wards. I consider this has a lot of merit

1. Good governance model. Will need to work on diversified skill sets for councillors, though at some risk from electorate decisions independently of skill sets.

2. Skills also need to include some awareness of all sectors and activities of the wide city area including agricultural industry.

2. Option 2 - Two Wards (central and outer ward). I am concerned that this may be a reversion to our previous doughnut council with a risk of divisiveness, though it does encourage rural industry representation as a skill set.

There are other economic interests than agriculture yet these are not similarly represented

2. Option 3 - Three Wards (central and 2 outer ward). As for option 2

3. Option 4 - Four Wards (concentric circles). Effect appears to be regional representation. .. sort of cbd, urban, rural res, rural. My preference is not, however reasonable to reduce councillors and maintain if wards are retained. Does not promote skill sets across whole of councillors.

4. Option 5 - Five Wards similar to option 4.

5. Option 6 - retain status quo. In addition to my thoughts on board diversity there are regular reviews to ensure electorate representation in the wards is balanced hence boundaries keep changing, about every five years and as population grows. This uses up resources!

With those comments in mind I recommend No Wards and less councillors at around the 8 to 10, say nine (9) mark

The Mayor

Irrespective of the valuable commitment and work carried out by current and past Mayors

I consider that an independently elected mayor is not the optimum model for governance and consider that a diversely skilled board is best placed to select their own leader in context of the varying needs of the organisation from time to time.

In some ways with the current ward system this is the only role that the whole electorate has a say in currently!

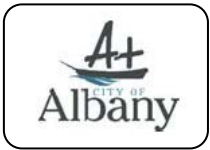

However on this basis I consider an independently elected mayor is not the best option.

I recommend a mayor elected by the council.

Summary of Proposed Alternate Options

To determine which option is the best one for the City of Albany the following rating system was applied:

Submission	Community of Interest	Physical & topographic features	Demographic trends	Economic Factors	Ratio C:E
A	No	No	Yes	No	No
B	No	No	Yes	No	No
C	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes
D	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes

SUBMISSION A – Four Wards

This submission requested the following ward structure:

- Ward 1: Central Ward;
- Ward 2: Outer suburbs such as Little Grove and Lower King;
- Ward 3: Small land owners 5ha to 500 ha; and
- Ward 4: Large broad acre farms, for example, Wellstead.

Community of interest: This option has some shared characteristics in that the ward boundaries largely relate to land use, however, there is little consideration given to educational, recreational or economic factors.

Physical and topographic features: Ward boundaries follow suburb boundaries, although physical and topographic features do not necessarily define those boundaries, the option does not take into consideration the natural features that may provide similarities between wards.

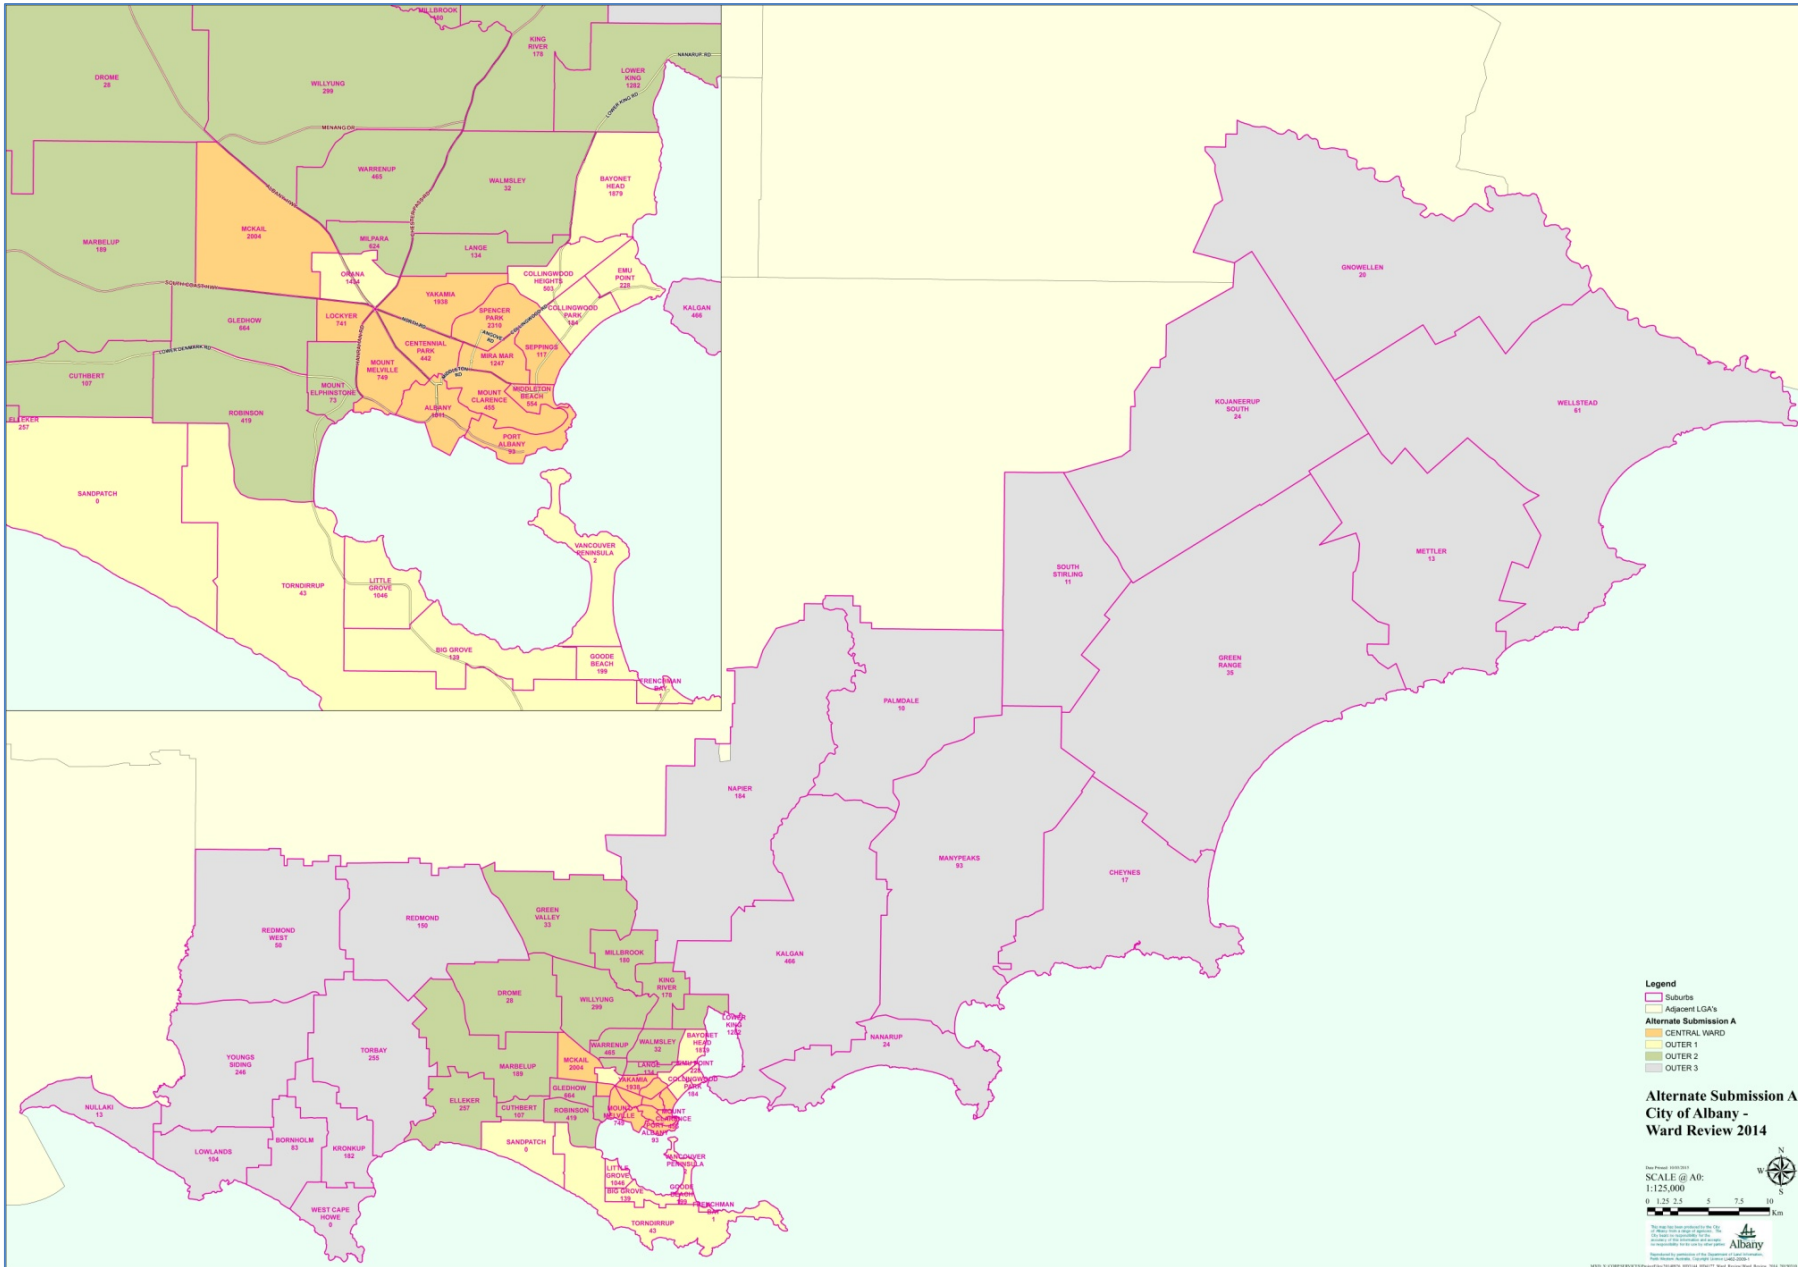

Demographic trends: While this option is based largely on land use, some suburbs are grouped into similar demographic trends i.e. central ward is made up largely of densely populated suburbs and the Central Business District, with little expansion in population expected. Outer suburbs may be rezoned for future urban development, which may occur during the eight years until the next ward review is due to be conducted.

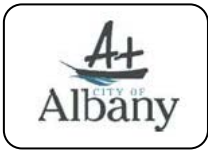

Economic factors: The central ward of this option contains the most densely populated residential areas, together with the Central Business District and Albany Port operations. The majority of educational facilities are also located in this area, as are major sporting and recreational facilities, hospital and medical facilities.

The outer wards are mostly residential, rural residential or agricultural in nature.

Ratio of Councillors to Electors: A greater number of elected members will be required in the Central Ward, while outer wards 1 and 2 are relatively close in electors; ward 3 has significantly less being mostly sparsely populated agricultural areas.

SUBMISSION A – Four Ward Map

SUBMISSION B – Seven Wards
(Note: Registered as a 6 Ward submission)

The submission requested the following ward structure:

- The suburban area and the adjoining farmers subdivision areas-say from roughly Nanarup-Bakers Junction-West of Link Road be divided into Five Wards with two members each;
- West Ward and East Ward would then consist of largely the farming areas and could elect one Councillor each regardless of actual population.

Community of interest: This option has some shared characteristics in that the ward boundaries relate to land use, however, educational, recreational or economic factors are not catered for.

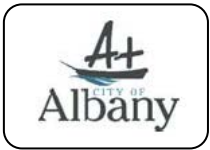

Physical and topographic features: Ward boundaries follow suburb boundaries. Physical and topographic features do not necessarily define those boundaries. This option does not take into consideration the natural features that may provide similarities between wards.

Demographic trends: The five wards of the seven ward proposal each contain a mix of land use and demographic trends. It would require considerable time to adjust these ward boundaries to reflect a similar demographic trend for each ward.

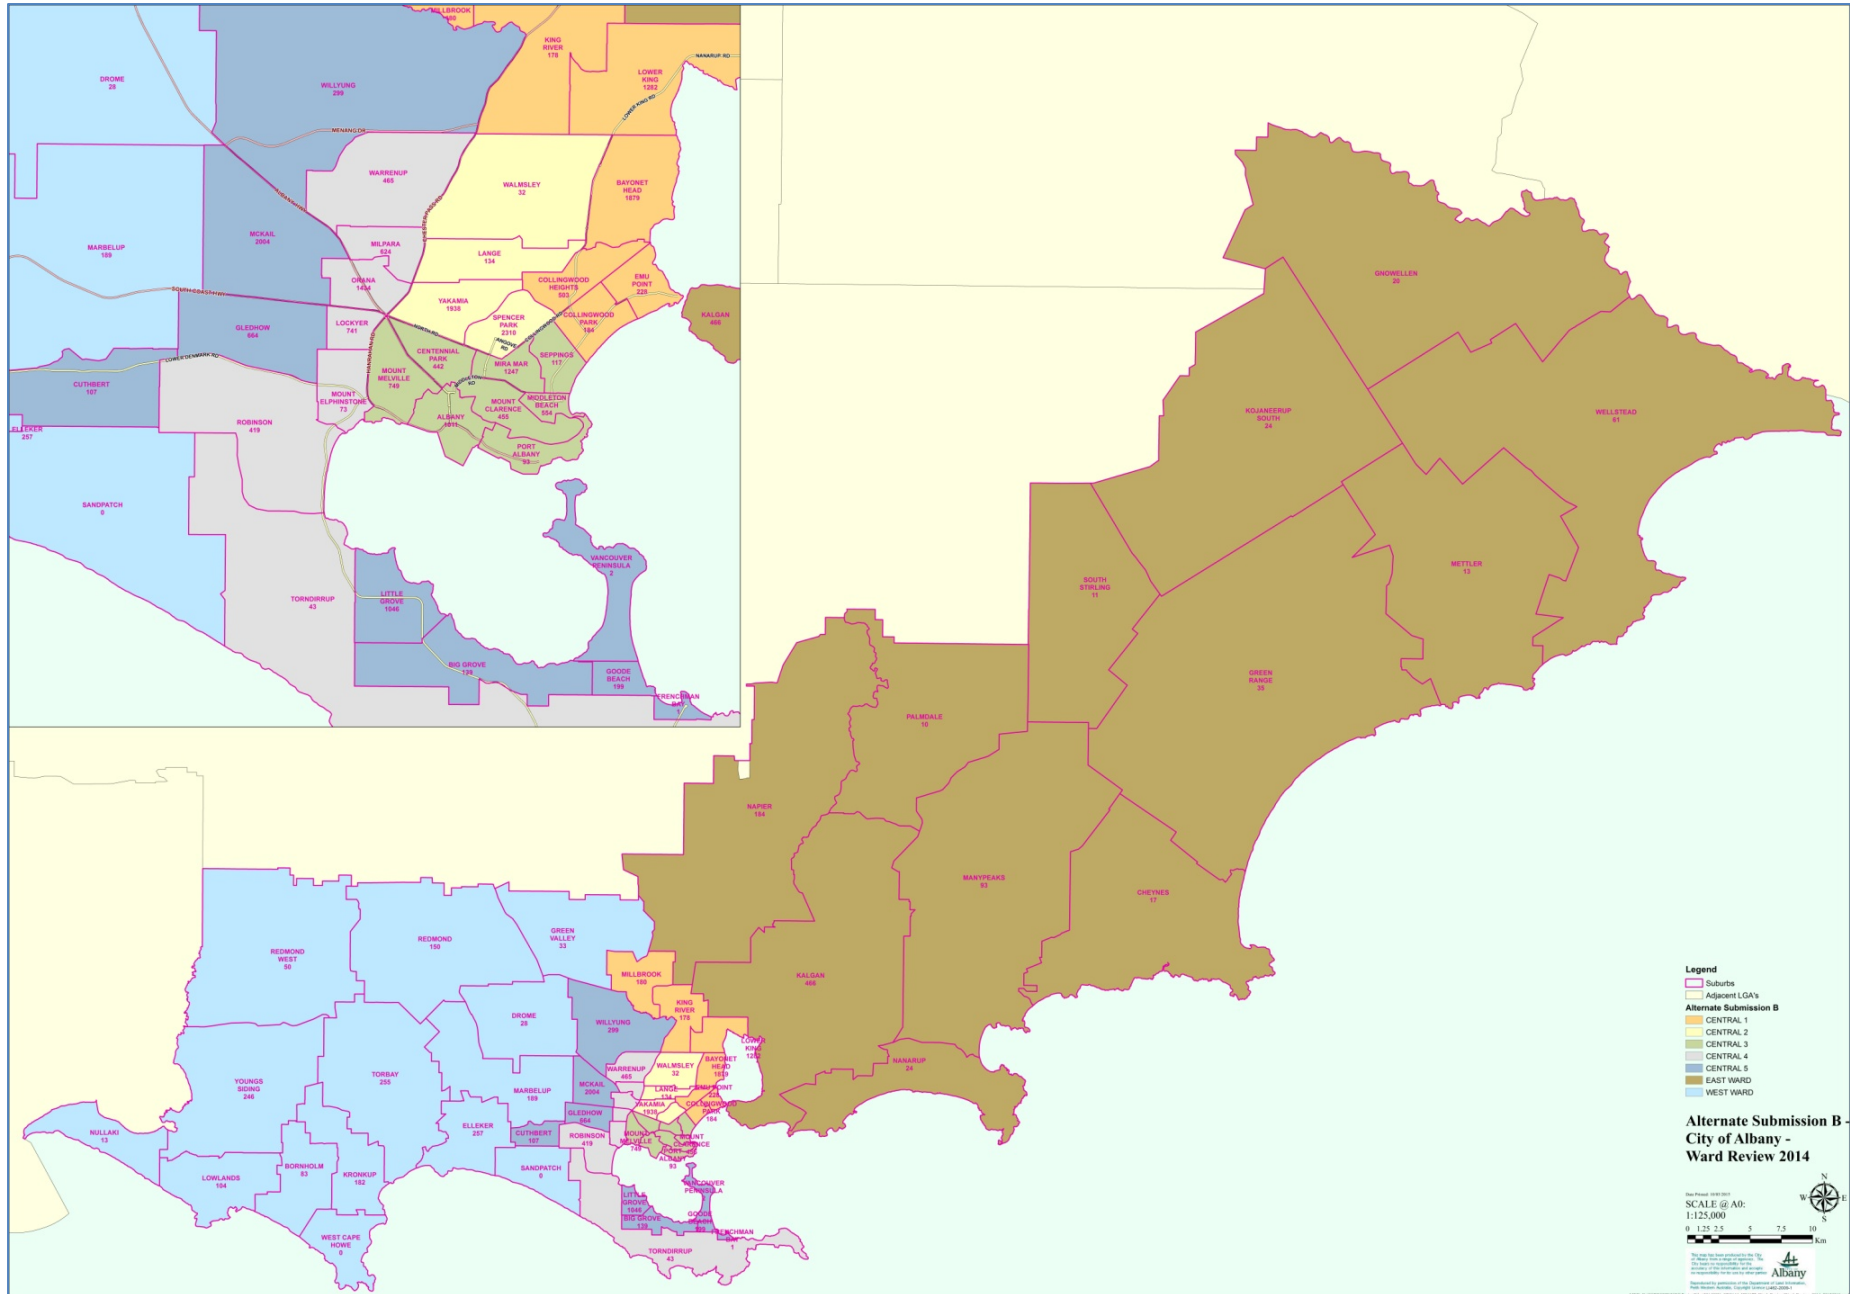

Economic factors: Of the seven ward proposal:
Five wards contain differing economic factors, with the educational, recreational and health facilities being confined to a small number of wards.
Two wards (East and West wards) are, as requested, mostly agricultural in nature.

Ratio of Councillors to Electors: The East and West wards are sparsely populated in comparison to the other five wards. The East Ward has 958 electors, the West Ward has 1590. It would require further analysis to adjust the boundaries of these wards to provide a more equitable division of population.

The population of the five central wards is reasonably comparative and would provide for the required Councillor to Elector ratio.

SUBMISSION B – Seven Ward Map

SUBMISSION C – Six Wards (Option 6 Modified)

This submission requested that the status quo be maintained if the suburbs of Robinson and Mount Elphinstone remained in Vancouver Ward and the suburb of Cuthbert remained in the West Ward.

This request complimented Option 6 – Six Wards as was proposed in the discussion paper.

Community of interest: Communities are attempted to be reflected in this option, noting suburbs are split by ward boundaries. However, this does maintain the current historic grouping of the suburbs of Robinson and Mount Elphinstone remaining in the Vancouver Ward.

Physical and topographic features: Ward boundaries follow suburb boundaries delineated by roads. Where suburb boundaries cannot be accommodated roads delineate the ward boundaries.

Demographic trends: This option addresses population trends in the medium term.

Economic factors: Ward boundaries do not reflect economic activity. However, Frederickstown Ward represents the Central Business District (CBD) and Kalgan and West Wards represent rural communities.

Ratio of Councillors to Electors: This request can be accommodated into the current proposed Option 6 (Six Ward Option – Status Quo), while retaining the required Councillor to Elector ratio.

Table: City of Albany – Submission C (Option 6 Modified– councillor to elector ratios for six wards and 12 and 6 offices of councillor.

Ward	Number of Electors	Twelve Member Council			Six Member Council
		Number of Councillors	Elector Ratio	% Ratio Deviation	Number of Councillors	Elector Ratio	% Ratio Deviation
Breaksea	3,950	2	1: 1,975	+2.57%	1	1: 1,975	+2.57%
Frederickstown	4,243	2	1: 2,122	-4.66%	1	1: 2,122	- 4.66%
Kalgan	4,113	2	1: 2,057	-1.46%	1	1: 2,057	-1.46%
Vancouver	3,965	2	1: 1,983	2.20%	1	1: 1,983	2.20%
West	3,965	2	1: 1,983	2.20%	1	1: 1,983	2.20%
Yakamia	4,088	2	1: 2,044	-0.84%	1	1: 2,044	-0.84%
Total	24,324	12			6

- This option results in a balanced councillor to elector ratio across the municipality for 12 of 6 offices of councillor only and is within the % ratio deviation specified by the Board
- Reasoning behind suburb to ward adjustments for this option to ensure balanced ratios:
 - A portion of the suburb of Mc Kail is now in Vancouver Ward. The most densely populated area of the Mc Kail suburb has been included into the Vancouver Ward, because it naturally flows on from the suburb of Lockyer. The less populated areas of the Mc Kail have been included in the West Ward, as they best fit with the rural/semi rural land use, most reflected by West Ward.
 - A portion of the suburb of Centennial Park is now in Yakamia Ward: A portion of the suburb of Centennial Park, which encompasses the low populated sporting precinct, is now included in the Yakamia Ward. The remaining portion, which is made up of a mix of commercial, residential land use remains in the Frederickstown Ward.
 - A portion of Frederickstown Ward is now in Breaksea Ward: This portion encompasses the suburb of Mira Mar, which is primarily residential has been moved the Breaksea Ward. Historically, the Frederickstown Ward population has been relatively static compared to other wards. Suburb redistribution includes a population growth characteristic to the Frederickstown Ward.
 - A port of the suburb of Bayonet Head is now in Kalgan Ward: This redistribution takes into account the rapid growth being experienced in suburb of Oyster Harbour and ensures an acceptable Councillor to Elector Ratio in the medium to long term.
 - The suburbs of Redmond and Drome are now in the Kalgan Ward: These suburbs were distributed to accommodate a more balanced councillor to elector ratio and facilitate the retention of the suburbs of Robinson and Mount Elphinstone in the Vancouver Ward. Noting that the suburb of Mc Kail is identified as having high population growth and the suburb of Gledhow is identified as a future urban zone will have a effect in the next eight years on the West Ward.
 - Ward boundaries delineated by roads.

SUBMISSION C – Six Ward Map (Option 6 Modified)

SUBMISSION D – Six Wards

(Option 6 Modified – Retaining suburb of Redmond in West Ward)

- Similar to Submission C, Six Ward Map (Option 6 Modified), however retains the suburb of Redmond in the West Ward.
- This option results in a balanced councillor to elector ratio across the municipality for 12 of 6 offices of councillor only and is within the % ratio deviation specified by the Board.

Table: City of Albany – Submission D (Option 6 Modified – Retaining suburbs of Redmond and Drome in West Ward).
